SEXTON coffee is not just another addition to our line . . . there's nothing secondary about its importance in our business. Sexton reputation was founded on the excellence of the coffee sold under that name . . . Sexton has imported, roasted and packed fine coffees since its beginning . . . nearly half a century ago. If we sold nothing else we would continue to be known from one end of the country to the other for the quality of coffee we supply to the restaurant and institutional trade.

More than forty years ago we began dealing with your firm for our various institutions. That we have made no change in all those years is a splendid advertisement for the John Sexton Company.

In considering why we have been so well satisfied in our relation to the Company, we attribute it to our experience: that the quality of the goods from Sexton's has been the best; that their representatives have been courteous and considerate; and that the service has always been efficient.

In appreciation of this threefold dependability of quality, courtesy, and service from the Sexton Company we subscribe our name,

CORRECTING AN ANNOUNCEMENT

To the Editor: In the December issue of THE CATHOLIC SCHOOL JOURNAL there appeared on page 10A under the heading of "School Activities" a subdivision called "Studying Paris Peace Pact." I wish to call your attention to the fact that the writers of the pamphlets mentioned are not purveyors of information but propagandists pure and simple.

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace has advocated doctrines which have not been accepted by the American Government and some of which are questionable in the light of Catholic doctrine. Messrs. Page and Eddy have been denounced as sympathizers of Soviet Russia even though they claim to be Christian ministers. They are members of several commissions of The Federal Council of Churches of Christ.

Last but not least, the Catholic schools pride themselves on their teaching of real patriotism. The gentlemen mentioned are the acknowledged foes of the doctrines of "patriotism" as accepted by Catholic belief and practice.

Under these circumstances I think you will agree with me that it was unwise to recommend by the printing in your pages sources of study for the Paris Peace Pact that are highly questionable to say the least.

Rev. Harold E. Keller,
Superintendent of Harrisburg Diocesan Schools.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES

¶ The first three buildings of Marylhurst College for women, at Portland, Oregon, overlooking the Willamette River, were recently dedicated. The event marked the seventy-first anniversary of the coming of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary in the State of Oregon, and the first units mark the beginning of a group to be completed in the near future. Most Rev. Archbishop Howard and Rt. Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, bishop-elect of Great Falls, Mont., were guests of honor. Sister Mary Joan is president of Marylhurst College.

¶ Pax Romana, an international union of Catholic students, with permanent headquarters at Freiburg, held its tenth congress at Munich, this year. Eighteen countries, 25 federations, and 60,000 students comprise the organization, which has as its motto, "Pax Christi in regno Christi." At this recent congress, the latest activity approved is the issuance of a Vade Mecum for Catholic students desirous of studying in foreign lands. The publication will be issued from headquarters at Freiburg, and will include information regarding curricula, living conditions, religious surroundings, entrance requirements, and other pertinent facts in practically any college or university in Europe.

¶ St. Monica's Church and School, built exclusively for the colored people of Raleigh, North Carolina, was dedicated by Bishop Hafey early in September and opened immediately. A church, school, convent, rectory, and extensive playground comprise the group at St. Monica's Mission. Of the 155 pupils in the school's grades, not one is a Catholic as yet. Five Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, from Marywood College, Scranton Pa., are in charge.

¶ At the celebration of Liturgical Day at St. John's University, Collegeville, Minn., October 22, Rt. Rev. Abbot Alcuin Deutscher, O.S.B., discussed the liturgy as a factor in higher religious education, and Sister M. Estelle, O.P., Marywood College, Grand Rapids, Mich., spoke on the liturgy as it affects instruction in religion in the grade schools.

¶ Philadelphia parochial school children welcomed the Pied Piper of Healthland on November 17. Mrs. G. G. Levering, wearing the Piper's gay costume, utilizes this unique method of gaining the children's interest and teaching them health habits. The work is sponsored by the Philadelphia Health Council and Tuberculosis Committee.

Opens Up A NEW WORLD to the CLASSROOM

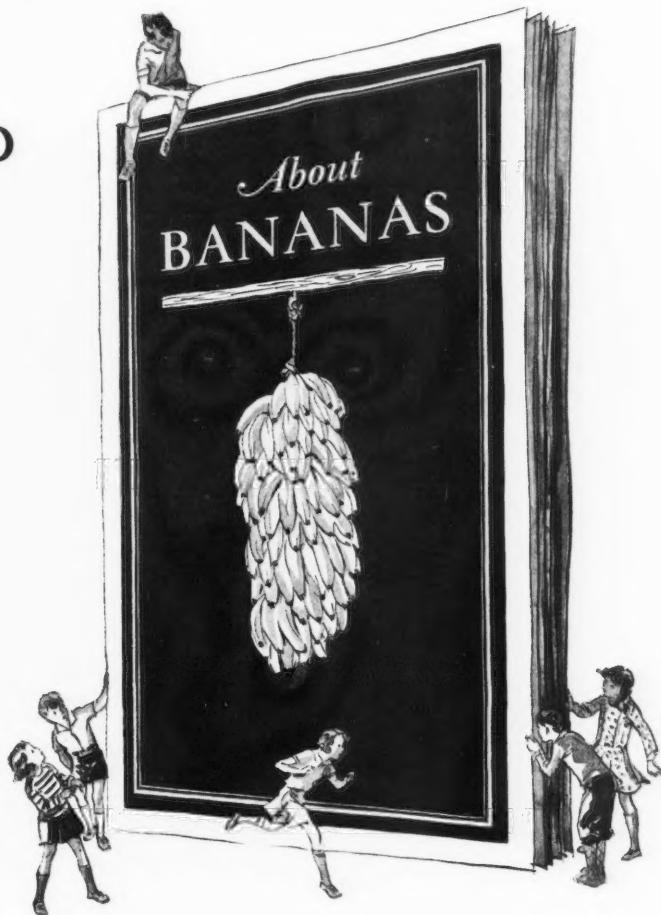

Free to Teachers

A WORLD of tropical scenes . . . fascinating history . . . pioneering adventure . . . all this is revealed in the new and compact booklet, "About Bananas."

Specially written and edited for schoolroom use, its twenty-four pages set forth a surprising array of facts every child should know concerning what a prominent editor calls "the food discovery of the age."

"How the Banana Circled the World," "Where the Banana Grows," "The Modern Plantation," these headings indicate the range of topics—all presented in simple, easily readable style.

Teachers will find the material usable in geography, in health instruction, in poster-making. Some will want their classes to start a special project, planned along the lines of "A Trip to Banana Land, a Geography Project Adaptable to Any Grade," recently originated by a Chicago teacher. Reprint of this project, as published by The Grade Teacher, will be sent with the booklet, "About Bananas."

You will want one copy of "About Bananas" for each pupil in your room. These are free to teachers

A Trip to Banana Land
A Geography Project Adaptable to Any Grade
by
Edith Dugberry Chapman

THIS idea for this project came to me one day after I had shown a lively group of children looking at an attractive picture of colored fruit. They talked happily about the colors in the picture, the fruits each had tasted, and how their mothers or mothers' maid-servants had prepared them for eating. During the group, one out of the group insisted that they represent the banana. It made me realize how most children like this fruit. As a result I prepared the following project which was received with great success and pleasure to both pupils and teacher.

The Project

The teacher paves the way for starting the project by presenting for informal discussion a picture of colored fruit and by suggesting the following project, though of course leading the children to make the preparation for the trip themselves.

What colors do you see in the picture? Which fruit tastes the best to you? What fruit have you never tasted? What kind of fruit have you ever tried to make out? What kind of fruit would you use the most if you were preparing one? If you were going to learn all about one fruit, which one would you select? You say you like the banana best? Would you

Saves Space and Money

HERE is a sturdy desk which provides practical and economical classroom seating. It is graceful in design yet will withstand severe wear and tear without strain. It is rigid and simple in construction, has nothing to get out of order, and is easy to assemble. The seat hinge is a strong unbreakable steel unit which works simply and quietly. All wood parts are immovably locked to steel framing and finished in standard school furniture colors. Ask your nearest H-W Sales Office to tell you about the H-W steel combination and other practical school desks.

CL Plans for a new Catholic university to be built at a cost of $2,500,000, near Hobart, Indiana, were announced by Rev. Paul J. Kulka, superior of the Holy Savior province of the Franciscan Fathers. The Holy Savior province is the Slovak province of the Franciscan order, and the university will be situated at Hobart because of the great number of Czechoslovakians in that area, yet will not be restricted to pupils of that nationality.

CL Four South-End parochial schools in Chicago have resumed classes in home hygiene for girls in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. Home hygiene courses have become a major health objective in the Chicago parochial schools, and two courses are conducted yearly. Among the subjects covered are care of the infant and young child, home sanitation, personal hygiene, fundamental facts governing control of communicable disease, preventive measures, physical examinations, care of the sick in the home, and first-aid measures. All Saints, St. Anthony, Holy Rosary, and St. Solomea, are the schools holding the courses this term.

CL Rev. David C. Gildea, superintendent of parochial schools in Syracuse, N. Y., has announced that beginning with the January school term, the curriculum of the eighth grades in parish schools is to include the subjects of Latin and algebra in preparation for the student's high-school courses.

CL A schoolboy safety patrol was installed at St. John's parochial school at New Haven, near Ft. Wayne, Ind., on November 14 by the Fort Wayne Motor Club. The members of this patrol will be on duty at dangerous intersections near the school buildings.

CL The new St. Patrick's English College was solemnly blessed at Ottawa, Canada, early in November, by Most Rev. Guillaume Forbes, D.D., archbishop of Ottawa, at ceremonies attended by clergy from the archdiocese and the dioceses of Kingston, Pembroke, and Alexandria. Most Rev. Andrea Casulo, D.D., apostolic delegate to Canada, also attended.

CL Elaborate plans are being made to celebrate the golden jubilee of Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis., in 1931. From a single building with 35 students, the school has grown into a $6,000,000 educational institution with 18 college buildings, and a yearly enrollment of over 4,000. Rev. John F. McCormick, S.J., head of the department of philosophy and regent of the College of Journalism, is in charge of the celebration.

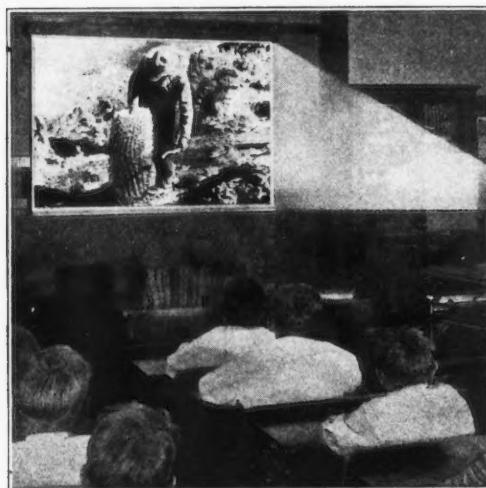

CL A thousand Catholic university men of various professions, among them state officials, scientists, lawyers, and educators, have joined in founding a Union of Catholic University Men in Austria, the object being to assert in a better way the Catholic contemplation of the world by means of organized forces.

CL School taxes in the city of Pittsburgh would be considerably higher were it not for the fact that Catholics pay for the education of their own children. This point was brought out conclusively in the report for October of Rev. Paul E. Campbell, superintendent of parochial schools in the Pittsburgh, Pa., diocese. Father Campbell revealed that the average cost of educating a pupil in the commonwealth of Pennsylvania is $76 per annum, but the average cost of educating each child in the public schools of Pittsburgh is $126.59 per year. If the savings of the city through the maintenance of parochial schools was figured on this basis, the amount saved is in excess of $5,300,000.

CL Miss Dorothy Slayton, a graduate of St. John's Law School, New York, N. Y., has been named in a nation-wide contest, conducted by the Iota Tau Tau, national legal fraternity, as the woman achieving the highest law scholastic standing in the country.

CL More than 2,000 children in 16 parochial schools of St. Louis, Mo., received health examinations in October, according to a report issued by Rev. James P. Murray, superinten-

Eastman Classroom Films not only supply pupils with a wealth of information: they supply visual experience... a driving force to self-expression and richer personal development.

On the screen: getting drinking-water from a Barrel Cactus. (From "The Arid Southwest.")

Pictures...Ideas...Words..

The Natural Road to Understanding

PRIMITIVE MAN saw...thought...then learned to speak. Visual experience was the motive force that inspired his ideas, and then created the need for words to express them.

This is the natural road to understanding. To reverse the process and attempt to create the illusion of experience through words alone is, at best, difficult. Words must have concrete illustration to give them meaning...otherwise the pupils' conceptions are hazy and, although a vocabulary may be acquired by rote, it will be of limited use in expressing original ideas.

Through the wide range of vivid experience which they bring, Eastman Classroom Films offer extraordinary help to every school in inspiring pupils to original thinking.

Far from requiring them to construct a picture of the world from vague words and phrases, these films, with their rich content, give children a wealth of concrete, living experience on which to base their ideas.

These ideas will demand an outlet. The vocabulary is bound to grow. Words are naturally and vividly comprehended. They become easily used tools of self-expression.

Eastman Classroom Films are not a substitute, either for the teacher or for long established classroom methods and devices. School authorities are beginning to realize more and more the significant value of these films in supplementing other teaching devices. As a result they are being widely used, not only in the United States but also in thirty-four foreign countries.

Full information relative to the cost, application and subject matter of the films will gladly be sent on request.

Two New Bruce Books For Supplementary Reading

For first graders

Curious Car

By Lillian K. Craig

A queer automobile is this. It sees, hears, and talks, and takes Bobby and Susie Brown a-venturing, and all sorts of strange things happen. The car tells the story itself: how it finds Bobby's dog with the reluctant help of the wild wilcat, the big, big bear, the eagle, and the deer; how it outwits the robbers; how it wins a race with the big car—and ever so many other adventures of the kind youngsters enjoy. Delightfully illustrated in color and durably bound.

Price, 88 cents.

For third graders

Powderpuff

By Alvin M. Peterson

Powderpuff is a little cottontail rabbit, and this story tells all about his hunt for food; his hair-breadth escapes from farmers' dogs, small boys, and hunters; his midnight frolics with his rabbit pals; and all sorts of other adventures. Illustrated with drawings, photographs, and maps. Excellent material for correlation with nature study.

Price, 72 cents.

Send for these two books on approval.

dent of parochial schools in the archdiocese. The examinations were conducted by the Catholic School Health Bureau.

¶ An initiated act providing for the compulsory reading of the Bible in all state elementary and high schools was carried by an overwhelming majority in Arkansas at the general election on November 4.

¶ On November 26, Bishop Joseph Schrembs, Cleveland, Ohio, approved the selection made by Rev. E. D. Conry, dean of Ursuline High School, Youngstown, Ohio, of three Youngstown priests to assist with the religious instruction at the high school: Rev. John B. Cunningham, assistant pastor of St. Rose's parish; Rev. Robert Delmege, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart parish; and Rev. H. R. McCormick, assistant pastor of St. Edward's parish. They will continue their parish duties and will give part time to the high-school work.

¶ In a poster contest, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Covington, Ky., Dolores Brinkman, sophomore at La Salette Academy in that city, was awarded first prize. The winning entry has now been entered in the state contest. Two other students of the same school, Eleanor Muething and Mary Ann Hickey, were awarded first and second prizes respectively, in an essay contest conducted by the Covington Art Club.

¶ Announcement was made on October 30, from the office of Brother Z. Leo, chancellor of St. Mary's College, Calif., that a summer session open to the public will be held for a period of six weeks during the summer of 1931. Residence at the Moraga Valley campus will be provided for men students only, but the general sessions and lectures will be open to both men and women. This will mark St. Mary's first experiment in coeducational endeavors.

¶ St. Agnes College for women, Memphis, Tenn., has added a course in interior decorating to the curriculum.

¶ The seventh national convention of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade will be held at Niagara University, Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 29 to July 2, 1931, according to an announcement of Msgr. Frank A. Thill, national secretary of the organization. Student and faculty representatives of 3,000 Catholic educational institutions will take part in this convention, which also will bring together a number of noted Catholic missionaries from their home and foreign fields.

¶ The first of a series of vocational talks, given to the freshman class at St. Vincent College, Latrobe, Pa., was delivered by Rev. Walter Stehle, O.S.B., director of the college preparatory department; his subject was the religious life. The second lecture was presented on salesmanship, and others will follow. These lectures are given through the year by various men outstanding in their particular field to better enable students in choosing courses fitted to their chosen careers.

¶ Mt. Mercy College, Pittsburgh, Pa., recently merged with Duquesne University, of the same city, under the latter name. Mt. Mercy has been incorporated into the university, and henceforth all students enrolled at the Mount will be registered at Duquesne. Duquesne University is conducted by the Fathers of the Holy Ghost and Mt. Mercy College by the Sisters of Mercy.

¶ In addition to academic studies, students at Presentation Academy, Berkeley, Calif., are taught to make their own dresses, uniforms, and costumes, in sewing classes under the direction of Sister Carmelita, principal.

¶ At the invitation of President Hoover, His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, called at the White House to formally accept a membership on the Child Health and Protection Committee of the White House Conference, on November 10.

¶ A new dramatic enterprise for the study of dramatics and a careful consideration of the arts of stagecraft, costume designing, and puppet making has been begun at St. Xavier College for Women, Chicago, Ill. Tentative plans are being
